JORDAN LEWIS

NORTH COBB

North Cobb junior Jordan Lewis, who catches and plays first base but is used mostly as a designated player, is hitting .542 on the season and .684 with runners in scoring position.

Her best game of the year came Thursday, when North Cobb beat then-No. 10 Harrison 8-1. She went 2-for-4 with four RBIs, and all her damage came in the second inning, when she hit a two-run home run and a two-run double.

She went 3-for-3 with three RBIs in Friday's win over Apalachee at the Softball in the Sand Tournament at St. Simons Island.

Vitals: Junior, first base/catcher

Strengths: Hitting with runners in scoring position

She's working on: Hitting and seeing different pitches

One softball rule she'd change: Dropped third strikes
